

Janet B. Long, MSN, ACNP, FAHA, CLS

Rhode Island Cardiology Center
Providence, RI

Janet Long, MSN, ACNP, FAHA, CLS earned a Masters in Nursing in the Acute Care Nurse Practitioner Program from the University of Massachusetts Graduate School of Nursing in Worcester. She practices as a cardiology nurse practitioner at Rhode Island Cardiology Center where she manages general cardiology patients as well as serves as the interim Director of the Cardiovascular Risk Reduction Program. She is the past president of the Preventive Cardiovascular Nurses Association (PCNA) where she continues to serve on the board of directors. She also serves on the board of directors for the National Lipid Association (NLA), the Northeast Lipid Association (NELA) and the Accreditation Council for Clinical Lipidology (ACCL). She is a member on the American College of Cardiology (ACC) Prevention Committee, ACC Nursing Education Committee and the ACC Core Curriculum Education Committee. She is a fellow in the American Heart Association and a Diplomate of the Council of Clinical Lipidology.

